

Emotional Maturity among joint family and Nuclear family Higher Secondary Schools Students in Relation to their Gender

Sanjay K. Patel

(Ph.D Scholar)

Hemchandracharya North Gujarat University, Gujarat (India)

Abstract

The present investigation in to find out the Emotional Maturity among joint family and nuclear family Higher Secondary Schools Students in relation to their gender boys and girls. The sample consisted of 120 Higher Secondary Schools Students out of which 60 where boys and 60 where girls. For this purpose of investigation “Emotional Maturity Scale” by Dr. Yasvirsing and Dr. Mahesh Bhargav was used. The obtained data were analyzed through ‘t’ test to know the mean difference between Higher Secondary Schools students in relation to their gender. The result shows that there is no significant difference in emotional maturity of boys and girls and Joint family and Nuclear family Higher Secondary Schools students. It means there is no significant difference between gender boys and girls and joint family and nuclear family Higher Secondary Schools students.

Key Words: Emotional maturity, Boys, Girls, Joint family and Nuclear family.